With the acquisition of Imprex, Inc Resins and Sealants, Godfrey & Wing has arrived with the next generation of solutions for components in pressure tight applications. The purchase was designed with one ambitious goal in mind: To create a new kind of Company, and a new approach, that leaves our customer confident that each component they produce will pass the most demanding tests for pressure retention.

The most advanced and widely used sealants, multiple locations and strategic partners afford our customers a consistency of approach unequalled in vacuum impregnation. Couple this with Godfrey & Wing's patented Continuous Flow Impregnation (CFi), and the world's most advanced impregnation technology can be placed next to your facility, or on your plant floor.

Call us today, or visit our website, to experience a different way of doing business.

QUALITY. COMMITMENT. VALUE. WORLDWIDE.
